

O.S.U. Sea Grant Extension Assistant Professor (Senior Research)

Oregon State University Extension Service is recruiting for a 12-month, full-time fixed-term Assistant Professor Senior Researcher as a Sea Grant Extension Marine Community Development Educator. This position is located in Coos County, at Myrtle Point, Oregon. Responsibilities include increasing the capacity of the local community to address issues, problems, and opportunities related to natural resource-based economies. Required qualifications include a Master's degree in a discipline such as community development, marine resources, natural resource management, or related fields, a demonstrated ability to integrate and apply knowledge from these disciplines to community in maritime regions, and a demonstrated ability to conduct public forums. To review posting and to apply, go to <http://oregonstate.edu/jobs> Posting #0002354. Closing Date: 05/23/08. OSU is an AA/EOE, and has a policy of being responsive to dual-career needs.